The search warrants were granted by the Honorable Rubino of Meriden Superior Court (GA7). On 10/19/2026, this Affiant served the court approved search warrant to Yale New Haven Medical Laboratory Department and obtained the biological samples taken from Carmona-Lopez. The samples were secured and logged into Evidence as Exhibit #006. On 10/20/2026, a second search warrant was requested as Yale New Haven Hospital records were not linked to Carmona-Lopez's name and in their system Carmona-Lopez was identified as Kilo-M, Eighteen-Unidentified. On 10/21/2026, this Affiant returned to Yale New Haven Hospital Medical Records to obtain the medical records. The witness will not be identified in this affidavit for their privacy but their contact name and info are documented in supplemental reports. The witness stated that they had "dash camera" of the incident. On 10/28/2026, this Affiant received the video which consists of approximately "0:00:35" seconds of run-time. The footage is being filmed from within a vehicle traveling on Interstate 91 traveling in the northbound travel lanes. The footage begins with the Chevrolet Silverado, traveling in the wrong direction, northbound within the southbound lanes. The Chevrolet Silverado is observed in the left lane of Interstate 91 south. The Chevrolet Silverado continues to travel north in the southbound (wrong way) as numerous vehicles pass and change lanes to avoid a collision. Video footage also reveals that the Chevrolet Silverado drives towards and passes at least 18 vehicles before it strikes the Honda Accord. This is noted in observation of the vehicles driving in the proper direction while their headlights are facing the Chevrolet Silverado which is proceeding the wrong way on Interstate 91. Within the video footage the head on collision is captured between the Chevrolet Silverado and Honda Accord. The Chevrolet Silverado's rotates counterclockwise. A series of sparks are observed, and the Honda Accord rotates counterclockwise from the impact with the Chevrolet Silverado. The Honda Accord is then impacted by the Jeep Grand Cherokee.
